Fire in Greenville. On Tuesday night, about 10 o'clock, Mesers. Cline & Gines' planing mill was discovered to be on fire. The fire engine companies were promptly on the spot, but owing to the combustible material, the mill was consumed so rapidly that it was impos-cible for them to save the building and con-tents. There was a saw mill connected with the establishment, together with a quantity of lumber and tools and machinery, making the loss a heavy one, amounting in all to about $7,000, no insurance. A lumber shed and a large amount of lumber, piled near the mill, was saved, by the aid of the engines. Capt. J. W. Caute lost a large quantity of flooring and weatherboarding, ready prepared for his new build ing, now being erected.

It is supposed the fire was the work of an incendiary, and we hope a large reward son, late President of the road, and who had will be offered by the City Council for his signified his positive refusal to be a candidate

Fraudulent State Bonds.

We believe there is a universal determina tion of all honest men, of all parties in the State, never to pay any debt of the State fraudulently incurred or superinduced to serve the purpose of plundering rings. Much is said in all the papers of the State on the new rumors of fraudulent bonds and as to the course to be pursued, but all seem, to come to BEVERLY NASH, the colored Senator for sible thing in Columbia, lately, from which the distinguished white Statesmen of the land might learn wisdom. Nass said it would be botter for the State to have no credit at this time, and so say we. It is a pity that any bond of the State could be issued and sold for one mill on the hundred dollars. State credit, since the war, even the little it has had. has been State ruin. Heaven forbid that the State credit for new issues of bonds should be kept up. We are pleased to see that the eyes of the world are being opened as to the character and management of South Carolina finances. He who buys her bonds now issuing, even from their low price, knows he, is risking his money and merely gambling on the chances. There is less obligation on the people of the State to pay such public debts than there is on a man to pay an agent's gam bling debts.

Things in the Lower Part of the County. Dr. DAVID R. ANDERSON, who resides 19 miles below, has recently erected a fine residence, costing $2,500 or $3,000-this includes all of the out buildings, which are entirely new. The house is two stories high, of recent style of structure, and handsomely painted .-This is the plantation known as the old Stokes

Mr. DAVID M. PEDEN is now erecting a two story house in front of his old residence, 18 miles from the City, which will cost from $1,-800 to $2,000. Mr. Peis an active, throughgoing man, and who manages his business successfully.

Mr. TROMAS GOLDSWITH is refitting bis house, putting on new weatherboarding, roof, painting, &c., which will almost convert it into a new one. Mr. G. occupies the property known as the " Cook place." Mr. Jons B. Hype, nine miles from town,

-----Working of the Streets in West ville. At the present time, the streets in Wards 5 and 6 are receiving much attention, from Messrs. HAMMETT and CLINE, who are using the Council force with effectiveness. A bad place in Rhett Street is being thoroughly and substantially fixed, by Warden CLINE, for which he will no doubt receive the thanks especially of the near residents, as it is an ugly place. Warden HAMMETT is overhauling a long line of Augusta Street, and seems determined to put it in first rate condition. These Wardens are practical gentlemen, and will benefit and improve the Wards they represent in the City Council. No part of the City needed attention more than that portion of the place to which we bave alluded, and we trust the work will continue to go bravely on.

The Columbia Phoenix.

The Columbie Phanix has recently been enlarged by the Proprietor, Mr. JULIEN A. SELBY, and now it is as large as the most of the weekly journa's of the State. It is much improved, and will rank with the first class dailles. Co'. J. P. THOMAS, an able, ready and vigorous writer, is announced as the chief editor, and will henceforth conduct its columns His editorials are of superior character and have the right tone and ring. We wish for the Phanix still greater prosperity, and feel sure, under its present management, it will have a front stand in journalism.

Poetry on the First Page. Those exquisite lines to be found on the first page, copied from XIX Century 1869. were written under the impulse of the moment, whilst visiting the Palls in this City, and are from the pen of a lady who has recently come into our midst as a permaneat resident. We are glad to record such valuable acquisitions to our community, as the author of such beautiful expressions must be an addition to the circle in which she moves.

The Brass Band. A hot supper will be given this evening, at the old court house, by the Palmetto Fire Engine Company, for the benefit of their Brass Band Tickets fifty cents, to be had at the drug stores.

The ladies and gentleman of our City should attend to night, and thus encourage our fire department. Every property holder is interested in sustaining this organization. We have two superior companies and a Brass Band will conduce much to build up an institution that Charleston, Columbia, and every other city, appreciates and esteems. Ladies and gentleman, attend to-night, and grace the occasion with your presence.

Walhalia-The Court.

We had occasion to visit Walhalla last week, during the Court, arriving on Tuesday. On Wednesday, the care of one KRIGHT, who was recently : United States Deputy Marshal, charged with stealing a mule, was tried and defendant acquitted, after able arguments for the prosecution, by the Solice or, PERRY, and by J. P. REED in defence. The charge of Julge ORR was very clear and able upon the law, as applicable to the party. A white woman had been convicted, the day before, for stealing a pig. The cases on the Criminal Docket were not numerous. The Civil Docket was taken up on Wednesday, and we presume has occupied the week past, if not entered into this.

Mr McGER excels in furnishing invariably nice and well prepared meals. Belton has grown some bigger since the war. Mr. McGkg's hotel has been greatly enlarged, and some stores and dwellings built. There are now six stores in Belton, and all doing a fair bus

Death of the Yellow Fever.

There having been a black frost in Charleston, occurring on the 17th, there is now no danger from that dreaded disease in that city. The Courier, of last Thursday, gives the annexed pleasing picture of our metropolis:

" The streets yesterday, and the hotels in be under circumstances, and in marked contrast to what they were months ago,--The absentees are coming in by scores, and the arrivals increasing daily, every train and steamboat bringing fresh accessions. If they continue at their present rate, they will be heavy before the week ends. Our city is putting on its wonted ap pearance, and the dreadful dullness which held it in its 'leach' this 'long summer through,' has been superorded by a spirit that makes one recall the past. Such a scene as was witnessed in our streets yesterday imparted a glow to the mercantile heart in particular, and the popular one in geroral. The jubbers, having put their commercial houses in order long ago, are now ready for any demand that may re made upon their large and admirably releeted stocks. The retailers are crowding their windows and show-cases with the gems they have to offer, and are in full faith that their long tried patience will be amply rewarded by a remunerative trade, at $68,240,569, exclusive of town property, a pleasant foretaste of which they got yesterday."

Attending a Wedding.

Miters some times attend weddinge, as evidenced from the fact that we observed on our streets, last Wednesday morning. Mr. Hvon Wilson, of the Abbeville Press and Banner, and who complained that he had retired very late the night previous. (We surmise that he was one of the invited at the marriage of the daughter of one of our principal citizens, occurring about that time.) And we hope, as he is not yet a benedict, that before many moons, he, with one of our charming mountain ladies, will be principals in a similar ceremony -That's the worst we wish him.

Good Eating for Points Below.

On Sunday morning last, as the people were wending their way to Church, they were met by by a large drove of Turkeys, going down Main Street. There were three hundred and fitty in the lot, any of which, from appearance, would adorn a dish on Christmas or New Year's-or any other time. They were driven up Angusta Street, proceeding to points below, and were not affered for sale here. These towls came from Western North Carolina.

What Shall We Do.

If young men from other cities and townome and marry all of our beller, pretty and accomplished, what are we to do .-Some of our elder citizens must have a talk with Mr. Cujid, and see that Greenville is on no occasion to lose a daughter, but gain son. Just the other day, Mr. W. J Cnorswat L, a Columbia gentleman, carried off Miss Manie Gower one of our City pearls, However, the capital is not very distant, Ob ! married love !-each heart shall own,

Where two congenial souls unite, Thy golden chains inlaid with down, Thy lamp with heaven's own splende bright." The above was renned after partaking of a rich treat in wedding cake.

Hogs from Kentucky and Tennessee. On yesterday, three droves of Hogs, all elonging to the same person, came into town, and were offered to our citizens at seven cents per pound gross. These are the first of the season and are a fine collection. Most of them go below this morning by; the railroad. We hope the price will come down some.

Literary Club.

The monthly meeting of the Literary Club will be held on Tuesday evening, Nev. 28th, at 7 P. M., at the residence of Dr. J. A. Broadus Officers for the ensuing year are to be elected at that time. There is an old proverb which says, "Experience is the safest guide." To this guide the sick and alling, naturally turn when east ing about for the means of relief. They enquire what a medicine has done or others, because the same preventives in uso, HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS meets the test most triumphantly, and hence its immense popularreturn of its anniversary. The sufferer from indigestion is sure to find some one among his friends who has been cured of this ailment by the famous vegetable stomachic. The victim of fever and ague, liver complaint, constipation, nervous prostration, or general debility, has only to make inquiry in the neighborhood where he resides in order to discover what this standard restorative has effected in cases similar to his own. In the published testimony to its merits he will find a volume of proofs of its sanitary properties, which it is impossible for his common sense to resist. He tries it, and the effect it produces on his system adds another to the host of witnesses in its favor.—Thus, its reputation, founded on facts, not assertions, continually grows and spreads.—Charlatans and impostors, some of them mere tricksters, and others who take a somewhat wider range, attempt to thrust into the hands and down the throat of invalids, their haphazard concections, as substitutes for the tonic which for so many years has been a medicinal which for so many years has been a medicinal which for so many years has been a medicinal which for so many years has been a medicinal which for so many years has been a medicinal which for so many years has been a medicinal which for so many years has been a medicinal interesting age, the people, having ascertained what is really deserving of their confidence, decline "running after strange gods."

Pain is supposed to be the lot of us poor nortals, as inevitable as death itself, and Pain is supposed to be the lot of us poor mortals, as inevitable as death itself, and liable at any time to come upon us. Therefore it is important that remedial agents abould be at hand to be used on an emergency, when the seminal principle lodged in the aystem shall develope itself, and we feel the excruciating agonies of pain, or the depressing influence of disease. Such a remedial agent exists in the PAIN KILLER, whose fame has made the circuit of the globe. Amid the eternal ices of the polar regions, or beneath the intelerable and burning sun of the tropics, its virtues are known and appreciated.—Under all latitudes, from the one extreme to the other, suffering humanity has found relief from many of its ills by its use. The wide and broad area over which this medicine has spread, attests its value and potency. From a small beginning, the Pain Killer has pushed gradually along, making its own highway, solely by its virtues.

Such unexampled success and popularity has brought others into the field, who have attempted, under similarity of name, to usurp the confidence of the people and turn it to their own selfishness and dishonesty, but their efforts have proved fruitless, while the Pain Killer is still growing in public favor.
